2-day conference

A winning formula...

Military Logistics combines the former successful; Focused Logistics, Defence Equipment Maintenance and Military Engineering conferences, creating a highly specialised, must-attend event within the land & support sector.

It addresses key issues facing the international defence logistics community, the role of maintenance, repair and overhaul in operational capability in general and equipment availability, and important topics covering engineering support in deployed operations.

Previous supporting organisations of the events have included UKCeB, NAMSA, and the Institute for Defense and Business. The events have also been hosted by the Royal School of Military Engineering, and the Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers.
